Reasons Why McKinley Has Not Appointed Longstreet to Office.

ATLANTA, GA., October 21.—From an inimpeachable source comes the explanation of President McKinley's failure to appoint General James Longstreet to the milroad commissionership. Longstreet, besides being an active Republican, was very active factor in the Georgia Mc-

DAY WITH THE SONS.

THE GRAND CAMP HAS A SHORT, INTERESTING SESSION.

VISITORS GIVEN A CORDIAL WELCOME.

Comrade Gregory Makes This Address and Comrade Edwards Responds-Cheering Words of Col. Smoot and Judge Farrar.

The Grand Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, convened in its second session yesterday at 12:30 o'clock. Grand Commander Edwin P. Cox presided. In the absence of the stated secretary, Comrade Crump Tucker was named as secretary of the session. The exercises began with prayer by the chaplain, Rev. C. M. Chum-The attendance was not very large, but the address of welcome of Mr. J. M. M. Gregory, of this city, who was then introduced to the visiting comrades, was an especially happy one. In referring to the empty seats, he said that he was sorry this meeting was under the shadow of the greater gathering below. He spoke of the purposes for which the camps throughout the State had been organized perpetuate the movement, because they were identical with all that is true and right. His words of welcome were most cordial and calculated to make the visitors feel much at home in old Richmond.

RESPONSE OF MR. EDWARDS. In the absence of Comrade Mann, of Stuart-Pickett Camp, of Nottoway, who was to have made the response, Com-mander Cox called upon Comrade T. H. Edwards, of West Point, to perform that duty. Mr. Edwards, in a neat and ap-12½c. Best Canton Flannel for 3¼ and 7½c.; Printed Flannellettes for 6¼c.; 6¼ to 8c. The hospitality of this beautiful city, he said, was boundless, and he hoped that the opportunity would arise when their appreciation could expressed in actions as in words. These ords were greeted with cordial applause

Commander Cox then read his annual report, which was published in yester-day's Dispatch, after which the meet-$12.50 California Blankets for $7.50; others are $5, $3.25, and $2.25. COLONEL SMOOT'S ADDRESS.

Colonel Smoot was the first speaker. He said it was not his forte to speak, but that the occasion upon which this gathering was held furnished ample excuse for the attempt. The theme discussed by the Colonel was "Why Should I Become a Member?" He said this was an age of organization, and the great good that could be done in no other way than by systematic effort. Colonel love and honor to the old soldier in erect-ing a cottage at the Soldiers' Home. In closing, his words of encouragement were calculated in a large measure to inspire calculated in a large measure to inspire the Sons with new life. He told of the great difficulty experienced by the vete-rans in forming an organization, and gaid one of the most conservative and thoughtful members said: "I am tno-roughly disheartened; it cannot be done." It was done, and what was being accomplished could be seen by stepping into the room below. Colonel Smoot certainly defended himself from the self-accusation that he was not a speaker. His was a thoughtful and excellent address in every particular, and most cordially re-

Judge Farrar spoke next, and every Virginian knows what a rich flow of humor and pathos followed. Numerous anecdotes were related by the inimitable "Johnnie Reb"—often convulsing his audience with laughter, and the next moment the eyes of many became dim as their ears followed his words. Judge as their ears followed his words. Judge Farrar's closing words were: "I leave you this heritage—the heritage of your fathers' name, your fathers' cause, and your mothers' prayers.

A cordial rising vote of thanks was extended Colonel Smoot and Judge Farrar for a benefit that must necessarily come from two such addresses.

The business session was then resumed, and on motion, Comrades T. H. Edwards, Minetree Folkes, and James Mann were appointed on a committee to Mann were appointed on a committee to wait on the Veteran Camp to enlist their assistance in enlisting greater en-thusiasm in the meetings of the Sons' Camp. While the committee was out a letter from Robert A. Smyth, Com-mander in Chief of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, was read, which was received and filed.

The report of the Committee on Blanks and Transfers was submitted by Com-rade Mann, and on motion of Comrade Jacobs, and amended by Comrade Gregory, was received and its provisions recommended to the various camps. A blank is provided to be used in ap-plications for membership in all the State camps, which is to be sold to the camps at cost price of furnishing and printing.

The election of officers being taken up Grand-Commander Cox resigned the chair to Comrade Brander. Comrade Spence nominated Mr. Cox for re-election. That gentleman, taking the floor, declared that when he had before accepted the office it was with the understanding that office it was with the understanding that he would receive the entire support of the camps in the State. This support, he averred, had not been given him.

Mr. Gregory insisted that Mr. Cox should be given another term. He believed that the camps would rally in the course of time, and give him their hearty assets nee. Mr. Cox was therehearty assistance. Mr. Cox was thereupon elected by a unanimous vote. On being requested to take the chair. Mr.
Cox stated, with some warmth, that the support he had asked for had not been given him; he did not want and would not accept the office.
Several of the delegates called on him to reconsider his refusal to take the office.

Rev. Mr. Chumbiey suggested that in view of Mr. Cox's feelings in the matter, it would be perhaps better to relieve him. He nominated instead Commander Thomas H. Edwards, of the West Point Camp. Comrade Jacob nominated Mr. R. S. B. Smith. Mr. Spence, arising to a point of order, said that Mr. Cox had been elected Grand Commander, and as the had not formally tendered his resignation.

Overwork, Colds, Intemperance, or Railroad or Ocean Travel.

In striking contrast to the above sad case is that of Mrs. E. Hardin, 3,959 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., wife of the Clerk of the Board of Education, who says: "For thirty years I suffered with sick heada he, which appeared in attacks of severe pain, so intense that I was obliged to remain is bed for days at a time. These attacks appeared almost every week, and at no time did I ever receive relief, although I consulted the most skilled physicians in the city. The headaches seemed to wear themselves out and then commence anew. At last I was induced to try Munyon's Headache Cure. The relief was magical and almost instantaneous. I followed up the treatment and was completely cured—for three years have passed and I have received their most sincere thanks for many worderful cures that have been accomplished by these little pellets."

In doing so he said: "I nominate for election to this position Major Thomas Smoot congratulated the Sons on the good they were doing, and referred in affectionate and pathetic language of the feeling of der as captain of the old Purcell Battery, and then major of the Pegram Bat-talion, who handled their guns with such skill and heroic daring—and I would not give a title won in the Confederate ser-vice for all of the new-made generals you can pack from here to Kamtchatka.

Colonel Morton seconded the nomination of General Brander, which was supported Stratton moved that the nominations should be closed, and that General Brander should be elected by a rising vote. This motion was carried, and the election was unanimous. Captain the election was unanimous. Captain Stratton then moved that a committee of three-Dr. Jones, Colonel Morton, and Colonel Proffer-should be appointed to notify General Brander of his election and introduce him to the Grand Camp.

The commander, who was in attend-ance, was soon brought in, and in acknowledging his election, said it was use less for him to say how highly honorehe felt. As far as being called major general, he said, "I care nothing about it. What I feel proud of is the knowledge that my comrades have confidence in me I will accept the post to which you have elected me, and will discharge the duties to the best of my ability."

It was stated that the officers on the Grand Commander's staff were appointed, and not elected TALK OVER BUSINESS AFFAIRS. Adjutant-General Bidgood suggested that the camp should select a date for the annual meeting of the United Con-federate Veterans. The present, he said, was the first opportunity they had had of calling the delegates together with lit-tle expense. He proposed that the con-stitution should be revised so as to pro-vide for an assessment to meet the ex-penses of postage, printing, and other incidentals. There were also other im-nottent assistance. that the camp should select a date for portant particulars in which the tution might be revised.
